IMPORTANT MUNICIPAL OFFICES TO BE FILLED

Much Local Interest Centers in Forthcoming Primaries

FACTIONS ARE LINING UP
Council and School Board of Greatest Concern to the People Generally

In addition to the nomination of county officers at the primary election to be held Saturday, September 30, Charleroi borough will also hold its local election, and place in nomination candidates for the various borough offices. This is in accordance with the change in the time of holding the local elections from February to November, as provided by the constitutional amendments recently enacted.

Already there is considerable interest manifested in the coming primary, and various groups of citizens are busy discussing available candidates, particularly for the offices of councilmen and school directors. The borough officials to be elected this fall are:

- One high constable.
- One constable.
- One auditor.
- Two school directors, 2 years.
- Two school directors, 4 years.
- Three school directors, 6 years.
- Three councilmen, 4 years.
- One councilman, 2 years.
- One assessor.
- Two justices of the peace.

Personal interest is prompting a number to make the canvass on their respective tickets for the nomination for those offices that bring a compensation, while disinterested citizens are getting busy in the interest of the public good in trying to bring out good candidates for council and school director. The whole board for the latter offices is to be filled as the new school code enacted by the last Legislature ripped out of office the entire board. It is stated that the Keystone party will be in the field, and will either nominate a ticket of its own or fuse with the Democrats in accordance with the plan effected by the county organizations of the two parties.

As the Republicans are in a decided majority in Charleroi the great scramble will be for nominations for office on that ticket. It is probable that a suggestion meeting will be called for Saturday evening, September 2, as September 9 is the limit for filing petitions for borough office. Any candidate can have his name placed on his party ticket by filing a petition at Washington, and he does not have to have his name suggested at the party caucus. In view of the interest that is being manifested in the matter it is probable that the Republican caucus will be attended by a big delegation of citizens who are anxious to promote good citizenship by placing in nomination good men for the borough offices to be filled.

INVESTIGATION TO BEGIN NEXT WEEK

Grand Jury Will Start Into Charges Made Against Management and Directorate of the Children's Home

QUICK JUSTICE METED OUT TO YOUNG OFFENDERS

Contrary to expectations the grand jury did not finish its work Thursday. On next Monday an important matter will come up—that of the investigation of charges preferred against the Children's Home management and directorate. Today is the day for the hearing of road petitions. Saturday some remaining criminal cases will be finished.

Thursday a number of true bills were returned by the grand jury. There were two cases from the river district, M. V. Humbert an Italian doctor was indicted for the illegal practice of medicine. G. B. Nolan of Charleroi secured a true bill against W. B. Taylor, charging larceny, larceny by bailee, larceny by clerk, etc.

Three young men, Edward Reed, Francis Garland and Richard Colton after being indicted by the grand jury entered pleas of guilty to the charge of breaking into and robbing the store of John H. Laird at Wexlandville, near Washington, Monday night of this week.

O. M. Crawford is now on trial before Judge Taylor charged with the larceny of three tons of hay. Ir. W. J. Burns is the prosecutor.

Albert Spiner, colored, was found guilty of having unlawfully shot and wounded Joe Dodek at Bentleville.

D. Steward indicted with Spiner was given an indeterminate sentence in the penitentiary, a maximum of four years and a minimum of nine months.

Charged with the larceny of a few personal belongings of her deceased daughter, Nezak Naimi, an aged Assyrian woman of Speers, was acquitted before Judge Taylor. The jury simply "walked right out and turned around and walked right in again." Had it not been a felony charge the jury would likely have placed the costs on the son-in-law of the woman, Solomon Abraham. The deceased daughter's name was Flora Abraham and before her death she had turned over to her mother the key of a trunk. It was in this trunk that the mother found some pieces of jewelry and some other personal estate, which she took.

Harry Soloni a young foreigner of Cherry Valley pleaded guilty to illegal liquor selling and was sentenced to pay a fine of $550 and costs and undergo imprisonment in the county jail for three months and 20 days. Steve Barber was convicted of unlawfully wounding Robert Biger in Canton township with a pair of shears and was fined $1 and sentenced to imprisonment in the workhouse for 10 months.

YOUNG COUPLE WED AT BRIDE'S HOME

Wed-Darby Nuptials Said by Rev. Hostetter in Presence of Friends

With Miss Viola Darby, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Darby, and Robert Wood, a prominent young business man of Cadiz, Ohio, as the principals, a pretty wedding took place Thursday evening at the home of the bride's parents, at 403 Fallowfield avenue. The ceremony was pronounced in the presence of the immediate family and the officiating clergyman was Rev. V. G. Hostetter, pastor of the Christian church.

The bride is a young lady of accomplishments and stands high in the estimation of a wide circle of friends in Charleroi and vicinity. She was the recipient of a number of beautiful gifts.

Following the ceremony the couple were tendered a reception and a dinner was served. The happy couple left later in the evening, amid a shower of rice, for a wedding trip to Buffalo, Niagara and other points.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood will for a time make their home in Cadiz, Ohio, but later it is planned to reside in Kansas City.

BRIGADE DANCE IS WELL ATTENDED BY PEOPLE OF VALLEY

Attended by a good sized crowd from various towns in this vicinity the Charleroi Brigade held its second summer dance at Eldora Park Thursday evening and the affair proved the success that was anticipated. Dancing was enjoyed with brief intermissions from about 8:30 until 12:30. Features were the uniform and moonlight dances. The uniform dance was for members of the brigade attired in uniform. Capt R. Dale Jolliffe, first Lieutenant J. Christy Roberts, Second Lieutenant, J. Russell Blythe, Sergeant Carl Schenck, Private Logan E. Wingett and Private Richard C. Roberts composed the committee which arranged and carried out the affair.

Labor Day Ball Games.
The Charleroi Independents has arranged two games with the Donora Works team for Labor Day. The morning game will be played at Donora, and the afternoon game at Charleroi.

SPHAR FAMILY HOLD REUNION

Fifty of the Connection Enjoy Day at Eldora Park--Addresses Made

Fifty of the Sphar connections attended the annual Sphar family reunion at Eldora Park on Thursday. A day of entertainment was spent at the park and at noon time a bountiful dinner was served. Mr. S. S. S. of West Newton, Shelby M. Harrison, of New York City, and Cornelius Carson, of Monongahela spoke. Mrs. Louis Taylor Rodgers sang the Pennsylvania song which has been adopted as this State's song by the Pennsylvania club in Seattle, Wash.

It was decided to hold the next reunion the third Thursday in August, 1912. Officers were elected as follows: John Sphar Rodgers, president; Mrs. Elizabeth Sierist, secretary; H. C. Sphar, treasurer; Mrs. Sarah E. Rodgers, corresponding secretary.

CALLED TO CHAIR IN ILIFF COLLEGE

Dr. Lowstutter Completes Two Years Work in Germany and is Now Here

After two years of study in Germany, Rev. W. J. Lowstutter, Ph. D., a Methodist Episcopal minister of note, has been called to the chair of New Testament at Iliff School of Theology, at Denver, Colo. Rev. Lowstutter is spending a few days in Charleroi with his brother, J. A. and Harry Lowstutter and on Sunday morning will preach for Rev. F. A. Richards, at the Methodist church. Dr. Lowstutter during his stay in Germany specialized in New Testament work. He not only excelled in scholarship but has also been prominent in the affairs of the American church in Berlin, serving for a time as its pastor. His home has been a center of hospitality for the American colony and particularly for the students.

Rev. Lowstutter is well known in this part of Pennsylvania, his home having been in Fayette county. His brilliant thesis on "The Words of Jesus" won him the degree of Ph. D. at the last commencement of Boston University where he was also made a Jacob Sleeper fellow.

FEAR OF THE BLACK HAND CAUSES ITALIAN TO LEAVE

Claimed to Have Branded Youth

Countenance of Young Glass Worker Seared With Hot Iron

On a charge of disorderly conduct the source of which was the branding of a fellow workman with a hot iron Mike Mino a youth 18 years old was fined $2.85 including costs by Burgess Risbeck this morning. Information was lodged by Frank Disatro. The latter claimed that while at work at Macbeth-Evans Glass plant Thursday Mino called his 14-year old son James Disatro, "Macaroni." The latter resented the epithet and consigned Mino to the regions of eternal fire. This angered Mino, it is said and seizing a red hot iron he gave chase to Disatro and catching up to the boy smeared his face with the iron. Dr. Carothers was called in attendance. It is possible that the lad will be marked for life.

BOLD THEFT OF HORSE AND RIG

Outfit Removed From Street of Monongahela in Early Evening

THE POLICE ARE NOTIFIED

One of the boldest thefts that has occurred in Monongahela in many years was that Thursday night when a horse and buggy belonging to Frank Jones, who makes his home with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bamford on the Keller farm near Monongahela was stolen from its hitching place in Third street. All efforts to find the rig thus far have proven unavailing.

Mr. and Mrs. Bamford drove to town about seven o'clock and tied their horse as usual on Third street, near the Alexander bank. They went to the theatre and after the show, about 8:30, went to get the horse to return home. It was gone and for a time they did not know what to do, thinking perhaps Jones had come to town and was using it, or that some of their friends had taken it for a joke. After waiting some time they notified Alderman R. L. Elwood and officers were immediately put on the case.

The animal is a bay mare, weighing about 1050 pounds and has a white star in her forehead. Mr. Bamford has offered a reward of $50 for the recovery or information leading to the recovery of the property.

Hair Ribbons.

We secured a box of very pretty checked plaid ribbons in very pretty checks of blue, tan, brown, navy, green with white a 25c value that we offer to get the school girls started to using them for hair ribbons at 15c per yard. We have big values in hair ribbons at 10c, 15c, 19c and 25c. Please ask to see them even if you do not need them right away. Why Pay More? Kirk & Clark. 22-12-eod

Man Relinquishes Good Job When Threats Are Made

RECEIVED TWO LETTERS

Both Contained Demands for Certain Amount of Money to be Left at Bridge

Fear that threats contained in a letter purported to be from the Black Hand society, would be carried out led Giuseppe Pisciotta, a substantial Italian to leave this week for Europe where he expects to escape his tormentors. Pisciotta received two threatening letters, it is stated, in both of which he was told to leave a certain amount of money, claimed to be $200 at the new Maple Creek bridge on the Twilight road. He did not pay much attention to the first one, but worry over the second together, is stated, with advice of a friend, led him to throw up his job and leave.

Pisciotta was employed for some years at the Pittsburgh Plate Glass plant here. He was thrifty and at the same time of a philanthropic nature. He had accumulated more than ordinary workmen in this country generally do, it is said, in spite of the fact that he dispensed much of his earnings to his friends to help them out in cases of need.

When the first letter was received Pisciotta became a trifle alarmed and showed it to some friends, who advised him to let the matter rest and await developments. He did this and after a time the second letter was forthcoming Pisciotta took counsel with two or three of his most intimate friends, who helped him lay the matter before the police. Then thoroughly alarmed, he packed up his belongings, secured a steamship ticket and departed, supposedly for his native land.

SAYS THAT WELLS MUST BE CLOSED

County Medical Inspector Takes Public Action at Monongahela

Dr. Charles B. Wood of Monongahela, county medical inspector, has advised the closing of several wells in his home town as a result of an analysis of the water taken from them. The wells closed are in the most important part of the city, and are used extensively through out the down town section.

Some days ago Dr. Wood was anxious to secure an analysis of his own well and while shipping it sent several other samples. They were sent to the state chemist at the University of Pennsylvania and the result caused Dr. Wood to advise the owners to close their wells.

Several of the wells have recently been cleaned and it is thought that the contamination comes through a feeder. It is thought the owners of the condemned wells will at once have them cleaned.

NO WILD WEST.

A recent magazine contained a statement that from an economic point of view is impressive. This statement is that Canada, which is now making an organized and systematic effort to people its great northwest, has not and never had a "wild west." This is in comparison with the frontier of the United States when the great west was being populated, and law and order was in abeyance and the desperado and general all-around bad man had the carpet. The Canadian authorities never could see why it was necessary to have a wild west, and consequently never had one.

This object lesson furnished by Canada is that even in the so-called civilized portions of the United States life and property are not so well safeguarded as in the vast reaches of the great Canadian northwest. There the Canadian mounted police patrol the country, and lawless characters are relentlessly pursued to a finish. In Pennsylvania there are rural townships where the residents face more perils than did their ancestors in pioneer times. Pennsylvania has an excellent system in the State Constabulary, which is patterned after to the Canadian mounted police with the exception of service. In Canada the police patrol the country to prevent lawlessness. In Pennsylvania the State Constabulary are quartered in barracks for the most part, and detailed to chase criminals after offenses are committed.

What is needed now is for the force to be increased and to be stationed in the various townships which are the most exposed to lawlessness. It is more important to protect the people than it is to apprehend the criminals who rob and murder.

GOOD TO ELIMINATE

Because of threatening letters demanding blackmail, Charleroi loses a good citizen. This is the Italian who departed recently for his native country, rather than run the risk of assassination or injury because some unknown persons evidently coveted the means which the thrifty citizen had accumulated by his industry.

The man who departed presumably took along his wealth which leaves Charleroi that much poorer, as no doubt in the course of time this accumulation would have been invested either in a business or in property here, thus adding to the general prosperity of the community.

By this process Charleroi loses a desirable citizen and retains some undesirable ones, as no doubt the alleged Black Handers are still here waiting and watching for an opportunity to still further pursue their nefarious schemes. This case furnishes an example of what harm these would-be blackmailers do to a community, as well as to the individuals they seek out as victims. An element that drives out desirable, thrifty citizens and invites the opposite type is one that the public should unite in seeking out and eliminating.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

A highwayman who will take a man home after robbing him, as the one did recently at Monongahela, has some right to claim distinction in the "Raffles" class.

Finger print experts are scarce in Pittsburgh at $1,200 per year. But boost the price to $10,000 and a surprising crop would be the result.

Wheeling people seem to be more concerned about the kind of language Rev. Billy Sunday uses in his sermons than they do in the salvation of their souls.

"Not guilty but don't do it again" verdicts seem to be "au fait" in Washington county.

Those acrimonious and anticipatory meat dealers of the west increase the price of meat every time they can think of an excuse.

School days may be coming, but just look at the nice assortment of pretty teachers there will be everywhere.

A New York man, aged 45, bought the girl of his choice, aged 19, a pair of $10,000 garters, and then she wouldn't marry him. Unlike Cowles, late of the Cleveland Leader she must not have any sense of humor. The only time Cowles ever laughed was when a man got hurt by a printing press.

Col. Dreyfus must keep this man O'Toole as the "goblin who'll get you if you don't watch out."

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"While away on a brief vacation this summer I had an opportunity of observing how the short measure milk bottle gets in its deadly work," remarked a man who is an observer of small things, as well as an economic student to some extent. "I stopped at a lake resort where there were a number of hotels and cottages filled with summer boarders. Among the purveyors of commodities to serve the crowd was a milk depot, which in lieu of a soda fountain and a thriving retail trade in milk and buttermilk by the glass. The place was usually thronged with cottagers who came for their daily supply of milk, and invariably brought along a quart or pint milk bottle of the regulation type in which to get their supply. The dealer would fill a quart measure, which I inferred was standard, as the resort was in another State, and I noticed that the milk bottle would not quite hold the contents of the measure. It was not the dealer's fault, as those who brought pails always got the contents of the measure, but as there were more bottles than pails the daily loss to the consumers by reason of short measure must have been considerable.

"I have been told by bottle blowers that a large portion of orders received call for pint and quart bottles to be short in measure. Of course these are made according to order, but if people would take pains to measure the contents of milk bottles they could readily learn whether or not they are correct or short in measure. I know of some housewives who get standard pint and quart measures and always test the commodities they purchase."

"Some women are so thrifty that they won't even allow any surplus medicine to be wasted," remarked a woman who had been visiting in the country recently. "While I was a guest of my friend she happened, in rummaging through a drawer, to come across some pellets in a drug envelope.

"Here," she remarked, "are those liver pills I got from Dr. — when I had the jaundice last spring. I've hunted for this envelope everywhere, because I didn't want to waste that medicine."

"Swallowing one of the pills herself she called together her three children and gave them each a pill, which consumed the surplus. The woman remarked that if the children didn't happen to need the medicine at that particular time it might prevent them from having 'liver trouble' as she expressed it, later on."

The Panama Hat.

A popular comedian at a Lambs club gambol in New York told a Panama hat story.

"A young clerk out my way," he said, "gave his girl a present of a Panama last year. Then the day before the Fourth he got a couple of complimentary for a picnic, clambake and corn roast down the river, and he wired the girl:

"Meet me at pier 13 tomorrow morning at 7. Picnic. Bring Panama." "The next morning as he stood on pier 13 dreaming dreams of love, imagining a long, sweet day of billing and cooing, he saw his girl advancing with her father and mother. He was terribly annoyed, and on the boat, as soon as he could get her alone, he blurted:

"What did you want to bring the old folks for?"

"Why, Will, you told me to," she said, and she showed him the telegram, which the operator had made to read:

"Bring pa and ma."

Whistler Before Whistler.

Mortimer Menpes told the following story of Whistler, who was to deliver an address one day to the Society of British Artists: "The master at length entered, faultlessly dressed, walking with a swinging, jaunty step, evidently quite delighted with himself and the world in general. He passed down the gallery, ignoring the assembled members, and walked up to his own picture. And there he stayed for quite fifteen minutes, regarding it with a satisfied expression, stepping now backward, now forward, canting his head and dusting the surface of the glass with a silk pocket handkerchief. We watched him open mouthed. Suddenly he turned round, beamed upon us and uttered but two words—'Bravo, Jimmy!'—then took my arm and hurried me out of the gallery, talking volubly the while."

The Wheel Track to Eternity.

Time is the most important thing in human life—for what is joy after its departure?—and the most consolatory—for pain, when time has fled, is no more. Time is the wheel track in which we roll on towards eternity, which conducts us to the incomprehensible. There is a perfecting power connected with its progress, and this operates upon us the more beneficially when we duly estimate it, listen to its voice, and do not waste it, but regard it as the highest infinite good in which all finite things are resolved.—Wilhelm von Humboldt.

Unwanted "Wants."

A great number of our wants are special wants of the imagination; we want them simply because we think that we want them; they give us no enjoyment when we obtain them; the want of them is only known by a disagreeable feeling that we are without them

An Indication.

"Is Biggins the superior influence in his own house?" "I'm afraid not. He's one of those men who understand exactly what their wives are talking about when they describe what other women wear."

Oldest Dwelling. Archaeologists at a recent conference decided that the oldest dwelling inhabited today is a mansion belonging to Count Matuschke at Winfel-on-the-Rhine, Germany, which was built in 700.

Great Writer Not Fond of Music. Dr. Johnson was among those who had no high opinion of music. He admitted that "if he had learnt music he should have been afraid he would have done nothing else but play," but explained that "it was a method of employing the mind without the labor of thinking at all and with some applause for a man's self." He also confessed that "he knew a drum from a trumpet and a bagpipe from a guitar which was about the extent of his knowledge of music."

Eternal Feminine. Lady—Why are you all so worried? Captain—The fact is, madam, we have broken our rudder. Lady—Is that all. Well, the rudder is under water and it won't show. Let's go on.—Toledo Blade.

COUNCIL TO HOLD CALLED MEETING

A special meeting of the borough council has been called for tonight to consider matters which it is desired to have off the list before the regular meeting. There is a possibility that an ordinance prepared by the Macbeth-Evans company for certain rights on Eighth street may come up.

IF YOU HAVE ECZEMA OR ANY SKIN OR SCALP TROUBLE HERE IS GOOD NEWS.

You have probably tried one or more remedies with small success. This costs money and it is uncertain. We want you to try ZEMO, the clean liquid remedy but we do not want you to pay for it unless you are satisfied with results. We have so much faith in Zemo that we want you to try it by sending to the E. W. Rose Medicine Co., 3032 Olive St., St. Louis Mo., 10 cents in stamps to pay postage for a generous sample of ZEMO and ZEMO (antiseptic) SOAP and our 32 page booklet on skin diseases OR get a bottle today at Piper Bros., Drug Store and if you are not pleased with results they will refund your money.

Zemo is a clean scientific preparation that washes away and destroys the germ life and the poisons that cause the trouble. Stops the itching at once and results can be seen after one application. Zemo absolutely cures eczema in all its forms as well as shingles, rashes, acne, tetter, barbers itch, prickly heat etc., on infants the same as on grown persons.

Indorped and sold by druggists everywhere and in Charleroi by Piper Brothers Drug Store.

The Weaker Sex.

The young woman had spent a busy day.
 She had browbeaten fourteen sales people, bullied a floorwalker, argued victoriously with a milliner, laid down the law to a modiste, nipped in the bud a taxi chauffeur's attempt to overcharge her, made a street car conductor stop the car in the middle of a block for her, discharged her maid and engaged another and otherwise refused to allow herself to be imposed upon.

Yet she did not smile that evening when a young man begged:
 "Let me be your protector through life!"—Life.

New Angle on Help.
 "Why did you inquire so particularly into the wardrobe of that girl you just hired?" asked one of two women who were leaving an employment agency.
 "To find out how carefully she will guard against burglars," said the other. "My experience has been that a girl who has nice things of her own will lock up more securely at night and keep a sharper eye out for sneak thieves in the daytime than one who has nothing of value to lose."—New York Press.

She Was Right.
 "How effusively sweet that Mrs. Blonder is to you, Jonesey," said Witherell. "What's up? Any tender little romance there?"
 "No, indeed. Why, that woman hates me," said Jonesey.
 "She doesn't show it," said Witherell.
 "No, but she knows that I know how old she is. We were both born on the same day," said Jonesey, "and she's afraid I'll tell somebody."—Harper's Weekly.

The First Lighthouse.
 The first lighthouse was erected at Pharos, near Alexandria, in Egypt. It was finished in 283 B. C. Its height was 350 feet, and the light, which was kept burning on top at night, was visible forty-one miles away. This tower existed for some 1,600 years, when it was destroyed by an earthquake.

The Idea.
 "Can a married man acquire happiness?"
 "Sure! You don't think that bachelors are the only ones that die, do you?"—Toledo Blade.

Generally.
 "Pa," said Freddy, "what is a social scale?"
 "Generally speaking," replied pa, "it's a place where they weigh money."

There is an oblique way of reproof which takes off from the sharpness of it.—Steele

Why She Chose the Gown.
 A woman in Cherryvale, Kan., was allowed her choice between a new parlor rug and a summer gown. The Journal says that after three sleepless nights she decided on the dress. She argued: "I can darken the parlor and the rug will look all right in subdued light, and besides, hundreds of folks will see the dress who would never see the rug."

Value of a Postal Card.
 It is a good plan always to have at hand a half-dozen or so postal cards. Then when you see an advertisement that interests you, drop a line before your interest wanes, or you forget the name and address. The possible advantages to you of acting promptly are boundless.

ARMS AND LEGS MAIN REQUISITES IN THE LEAGUE

Lima Writer Describes Attenuated Charleroi Players Eccentricities

A Lima newspaper recently contained the following as a sequel to a write-up of a Lima-Piqua ball game. John McIlvaine is a pitcher for the Piqua team. The Lima paper says: "The gentlemen who undertook to throw an occasional ball over the wooden square under the bat were an interesting staff of the genus pitcher. The most eccentric specimen that cavorted on the mound was Mr. McIlvaine of the Pique club. McIlvaine resembles an assortment of the most extremely attenuated arms and legs possible to conceive, mounted with more or less care on a few spliced sections of gas pipe. His amble to the center of the diamond instantly brought the name of "Slim Jim" of Sunday art fame to the lips of some observant fanatic. Slim Jim McIlvaine was a whole infie'd by himself. There was little occasion for anything around the bags to scoop grounders. The prime requisite was a slot in which to drop the ball after Slim got it. A red hot boulder off a stinging bat might seek to scorch its way past the long limbed hurler, but it was of no use. He would shoot out a section of one of his handles like the beak of a heron darting after a minnow. And the ball was sure gone, for he would have it stopped, his attenuated appendage unbound and landed the sphere in the baseman's glove before a runner was able to run far enough to lose a bit of his breath."

IMPORTANT MUNICIPAL OFFICES TO BE FILLED

Much Local Interest
Centers in Forthcoming Primaries

ACTIONS ARE LINING UP

Council and School Board of Greatest Concern to the People Generally

In addition to the nomination of city officers at the primary election to be held Saturday, September 30, Charleroi borough will also hold its annual election, and place in nomination candidates for the various rough offices. This is in accordance with the change in the time holding the local elections from January to November, as provided by the constitutional amendments recently enacted.

Already there is considerable interest manifested in the coming primary, and various groups of citizens are busy discussing available candidates, particularly for the offices of councilmen and school directors. The borough officials to be elected this fall are:

One high constable
One constable.
One auditor
Two school directors, 2 years
Two school directors, 4 years.
Three school directors, 6 years
Three councilmen, 4 years
One councilman, 2 years.
One assessor
Two justices of the peace

Personal interest is prompting a number to make the canvass on their respective tickets for the nomination of those offices that bring a commission, while disinterested citizens are getting busy in the interest of the public good in trying to bring good candidates for council and school director. The whole board for latter offices is to be filled as the school code enacted by the last legislature ripped out of office the board. It is stated that the primary party will be in the field, and will either nominate a ticket of own or fuse with the Democrats in accordance with the plan effected by the county organizations of the parties.

As the Republicans are in a decided majority in Charleroi the great ambition will be for nominations for office on that ticket. It is probable that a suggestion meeting will be held for Saturday evening, September 2, as September 9 is the limit for filing petitions for borough office. Any candidate can have his name placed on his party ticket by filing a petition in Washington, and he does not have to have his name suggested at the city caucus. In view of the interest that is being manifested in the matter it is probable that the Republican caucus will be attended by a big aggregation of citizens who are anxious to promote good citizenship by placing in nomination good men for the rough offices to be filled.

Monessen Milk up to Standard

Tests Are Made of Thirty Samples Taken From as Many Dealers

There is not a retail or wholesale milk dealer in Monessen but what sells milk which will pass as pure, according to Special Agent John Jenkins, of the State Dairy and Food Division. Special Agent Jenkins recently took samples from about 30 milk dealers there and an analysis showed that it was up to the standard in every particular. He will continue to take samples of the milk at intervals. Charleroi milk was tested some time ago and all the samples taken here were found to be pure.

LOITERING WILL NOT BE TOLERATED

Arrests to be Made of Loafers on Street After 1 O'clock at Night

STATEMENT FROM POLICE

That any stranger or suspicious appearing person found loitering on the streets after the midnight train has gone, found about box cars, lumber yards or other places over the town will be arrested and dealt with severely, was the gist of a statement issued by Chief of Police C. W. Albright this morning. The statement was made after a stranger picked up on the streets at 3 o'clock this morning and unable to give a satisfactory account of himself had been fined by Burgess George W. Risbeck to the extent of $1 and costs.

Chief of Police Albright and Burgess Risbeck are determined to prevent robbery or crime usually committed during the early morning hours if it lay within their power. As a precautionary measure as well as to keep all suspicious persons under surveillance it was decided to place under arrest those on the streets at an unseemly hour.

Every morning between midnight and daylight the police make a round of the town searching in outbuildings, box cars, lumber yards and in every possible place for tramps and strangers. The rule is one that will be rigidly enforced.

Will Dedicate Church.

The formal dedication of the new church building of the First Baptist church at Riverview will take place on Sunday next. Regular church services will be held with extra programs arranged for the occasion.

Very Picturesque.

Workmen are this week placing the tile roof on the new Pennsylvania Railroad station. The tiles are green in color, and the effect is most picturesque.

INVESTIGATION TO BEGIN NEXT WEEK

Grand Jury Will Start Into Charges Made Against Management and Directorate of the Children's Home

QUICK JUSTICE METED OUT TO YOUNG OFFENDERS

Contrary to expectations the grand jury did not finish its work Thursday. On next Monday an important matter will come up—that of the investigation of charges preferred against the Children's Home management and directorate. Today is the day for the hearing of road petitions. Saturday some remaining criminal cases will be finished.

Thursday a number of true bills were returned by the grand jury. There were two cases from the river district, M. V. Humbert an Italian doctor was indicted for the illegal practice of medicine. G. B. Nelan of Charleroi secured a true bill against W. B. Taylor, charging larceny, larceny by bailee, larceny by clerk, etc.

Three young men, Edward Reed, Francis Garland and Richard Colton after being indicted by the grand jury entered pleas of guilty to the charge of breaking into and robbing the store of John H. Laird at Wyalandville, near Washington, Monday night of this week.

O. M. Crawford is now on trial before Judge Taylor charged with the larceny of three tons of hay. I. W. J. Burns is the prosecutor.

Albert Spinner, colored, was found guilty of having unlawfully shot and wounded Joe Dodek at Bentleville.

YOUNG COUPLE WED AT BRIDE'S HOME

Wedding of Mr. and Mrs. William Darby, by Rev. Hostetter in Presence of Friends

With Miss Viola Darby, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Darby, and Robert Wood, a prominent young business man of Cadiz, Ohio, as the principals, a pretty wedding took place Thursday evening at the home of the bride's parents, at 403 Fallowfield avenue. The ceremony was pronounced in the presence of the immediate family and the officiating clergyman was Rev. V. G. Hostetter, pastor of the Christian church.

The bride is a young lady of accomplishments and stands high in the estimation of a wide circle of friends in Charleroi and vicinity. She was the recipient of a number of beautiful gifts.

Following the ceremony the couple were tendered a reception and a dinner was served. The happy couple left later in the evening, amid a shower of rice, for a wedding trip to Buffalo, Niagara and other points.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood will for a time make their home in Cadiz, Ohio, but later it is planned to reside in Kansas City.

BRIGADE DANCE IS WELL ATTENDED BY PEOPLE OF VALLEY

Attended by a good sized crowd from various towns in this vicinity the Charleroi Brigade held its second summer dance at Eldora Park Thursday evening and the affair proved the success that was anticipated. Dancing was enjoyed with brief intermissions from about 8:30 until 12:30. Features were the uniform and moonlight dances. The uniform dances were for members of the brigade attired in uniform. Capt. R. Dale Joliffe, first lieutenant J. Christy Roberts, second lieutenant J. Russell Piythe, Sergeant Carl Schempp, Private Logan E. Wingett and Private Richard C. Roberts composed the committee which arranged and carried out the affair.

Labor Day Ball Games.

The Charleroi Independents are arranged two games with the Donora Works team for Labor Day. The morning game will be played at Donora, and the afternoon game at Charleroi.

FEAR OF THE BLACK HAND CAUSES ITALIAN TO LEAVE

Claimed to Have Branded Youth

Countenance of Young Glass Worker Seared With Hot Iron

On a charge of disorderly conduct the source of which was the branding of a fellow workman with a hot iron Mike Mino a youth 18 years old was fined $2.85 including costs by Burgess Risbeck this morning. Information was lodged by Frank Disatro. The latter claimed that while at work at Macbeth Evans Glass plant Thursday Mino called his 14-year old son James Disatro, "Macoroni." The latter resented the epithet and consigned Mino to the regions of eternal fire. This angered Mino it is said and seizing a red hot iron he gave chase to Disatro and catching up to the boy smeared his face with the iron. Dr. Carothers was called in attendance. It is possible that the lad will be marked for life.

BOLD THEFT OF HORSE AND RIG

THE POLICE ARE NOTIFIED

One of the boldest thefts that has occurred in Monongahela in many years was that Thursday night when a horse and buggy belonging to Frank Jones, who makes his home with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bamford on the Keller farm near Monongahela was stolen from its hitching place in Third street. All efforts to find the rig thus far have proven unavailing.

Mr. and Mrs. Bamford drove to town about seven o'clock and tied their horse as usual on Third street, near the Alexander bank. They went to the theatre and after the show, about 8:30, went to get the horse to return home. It was gone and for a time they did not know what to do, thinking perhaps Jones had come to town and was using it, or that some of their friends had taken it for a joke. After waiting some time they notified Alderman R. L. Elwood and officers were immediately put on the case.

The animal is a bay mare, weighing about 1050 pounds and has a white star in her forehead. Mr. Bamford has offered a reward of $50 for the recovery or information leading to the recovery of the property.

Hair Ribbons.

We secured a box of very pretty checked plaid ribbons in very pretty checks of blue, tan, brown, navy, green with white a 25c value that we offer to get the school girls started to using them for hair ribbons at 15c per yard. We have big values in hair ribbons at 10c, 15c, 19c and 25c. Please ask to see them even if you do not need them right away. Why Pay More? Kirk & Clark. 22-t2-eod

RECEIVED TWO LETTERS

Both Contained Demands for Certain Amount of Money to be Left at Bridge

Fear that threats contained in a letter purported to be from the Black Hand society, would be carried out led Giuseppe Pisciotto, a substantial Italian to leave this week for Europe where he expects to escape his tormentors. Pisciotto received two threatening letters. It is stated, in both of which he was told to leave a certain amount of money, claimed to be $200 at the new Maple Creek bridge on the Twilight road. He did not pay much attention to the first one, but worry over the second together, it is stated, with advice of a friend, led him to throw up his job and leave.

Pisciotto was employed for some years at the Pittsburgh Plate Glass plant here. He was thrifty and at the same time of a philanthropic nature. He had accumulated more than ordinary workmen in this country generally do, it is said, in spite of the fact that he dispensed much of his earnings to his friends to help them out in cases of need.

When the first letter was received Pisciotto became a trifle alarmed and showed it to some friends, who advised him to let the matter rest and await developments. He did this and after a time the second letter was forthcoming. Pisciotto took counsel with two or three of his most intimate friends, who helped him lay the matter before the police. Then thoroughly alarmed, he packed up his belongings, secured a steamship ticket and departed, supposedly for his native land.

SAYS THAT WELLS MUST BE CLOSED

County Medical Inspector Takes Public Action at Monongahela

Dr. Charles B. Wood of Monongahela, county medical inspector, has advised the closing of several wells in his home town as a result of an analysis of the water taken from them. The wells closed are the most important part of the city, and are used extensively throughout the town section.

Some days ago Dr. Wood was anxious to secure an analysis of his own well and while shipping it sent several other samples. They were sent to the state chemist at the University of Pennsylvania and the result caused Dr. Wood to advise the owners to close their wells.

Several of the wells have recently been cleaned and it is thought that the contamination comes through a feeder. It is thought the owners of the condemned wells will at once have them cleaned.

NO WILD WEST.

A recent magazine contained a statement that from an economic point of view is impressive. This statement is that Canada, which is now making an organized and systematic effort to people its great northwest, has not and never had a "wild west." This is in comparison with the frontier of the United States
when the great west was being populated, and law and order was in abeyance, and the desperado and general
all-around bad man had the carpet.
The Canadian authorities never could see why it was necessary to have a wild west, and consequently never had one.

This object lesson furnished by Canada is that even in the so-called civilized portions of the United States life and property are not so well safeguarded as in the vast reaches of the great Canadian northwest. There the Canadian mounted police patrol the country, and lawless characters are relentlessly pursued to a finish. In Pennsylvania there are rural townships where the residents face more perils than did their ancestors in pioneer times. Pennsylvania has an excellent system in the State Constabulary, which is particularly after to the Canadian mounted police with the exception of service. In Canada the police patrol the country to prevent lawlessness. In Pennsylvania the State Constabulary are quartered in barracks for the most part, and detailed to chase criminals after offenses are committed.

What is needed now is for the force to be increased and to be stationed in the various townships which are the most exposed to lawlessness. It is more important to protect the people than it is to apprehend the criminals who rob and murder.

GOOD TO ELIMINATE

Because of threatening letters demanding blackmail, Charleroi loses a good citizen. This is the Italian who departed recently for his native country, rather than run the risk of assassination or injury because some unknown persons evidently coveted
the means which the thrifty citizen had accumulated by his industry.

The man who departed presumably took along his wealth which leaves Charleroi that much poorer, as no doubt in the course of time this accumulation would have been invested either in a business or in property here, thus adding to the general prosperity of the community.

By this process Charleroi loses a desirable citizen and retains some undesirable ones, as no doubt the alleged Black Handers are still here waiting and watching for an opportunity to still further pursue their nefarious schemes. This case furnishes an example of what harm these would-be blackmailers do to a community, as well as to the individuals they seek out as victims.
An element that drives out desirable, thrifty citizens and invites the opposite type is one that the public should unite in seeking out and eliminating.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

A highwayman who will take a man home after robbing him, as the one did recently at Monongahela, has some right to claim distinction in the "Raffles" class.

Finger print experts are scarce in Pittsburg at $1,200 per year. But boost the price to $10,000 and a surprising crop would be the result.

Wheeling people seem to be more concerned about the kind of language
Rev. Billy Sunday uses in his sermons than they do in the salvation of their souls.

"Not guilty but don't do it again"
verdicts seem to be "au fait" in Washington county.

Those acrimonious and anticipating meat dealers of the west increase the price of meat every time they can think of an excuse.

School days may be coming, but just look at the nice assortment of pretty teachers there will be everywhere.

A New York man, aged 45, bought the girl of his choice, aged 19, a pair of $10,000 garters, and then she wouldn't marry him. Unlike Cowles, late of the Cleveland Leader she must not have any sense of humor.
The only time Cowles ever laughed was when a man got hurt by a printing press.

Col. Dreyfus must keep this man O'Toole as the "goblin-who'll-get-you-if-you-don't-watch-out."

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"While away on a brief vacation this summer I had an opportunity of observing how the short measure milk bottle gets in its deadly work," remarked a man who is an observer of small things, as well as an economic student to some extent. "I stopped at a lake resort where there were a number of hotels and cottages filled with summer boarders. Among the purveyors of commodities to serve the crowd was a milk depot, which in lieu of a soda fountain and a thriving retail trade in milk and buttermilk by the glass. The place was usually thronged with cottagers who came for their daily supply of milk, and invariably brought along a quart or pint milk bottle of the regulation type in which to get their supply. The dealer would fill a quart measure, which I inferred was standard, as the resort was in another State, and I noticed that the milk bottle would not quite hold the contents of the measure. It was not the dealer's fault, as those who brought pails always got the contents of the measure, but as there were more bottles than pails, the daily loss to the consumers by reason of short measure must have been considerable.

"I have been told by bottle blowers that a large portion of orders received call for pint and quart bottles to be short in measure. Of course these are made according to order, but if people would take pains to measure the contents of milk bottles they could readily learn whether or not they are correct or short in measure.
I know of some housewives who get standard pint and quart measures and always test the commodities they purchase."

"Some women are so thrifty that they won't even allow any surplus medicine to be wasted," remarked a woman who had been visiting in the country recently. "While I was a guest of my friend she happened, in rummaging through a drawer, to come across some pellets in a drug envelope.
"Here," she remarked, 'are those

liver pills I got from Dr.—when I

"Swallowing one of the pills herself she called together her three children and gave them each a pill, which consumed the surplus. The woman remarked that if the children didn't happen to need the medicine at that particular time it might prevent them from having 'liver trouble,' as she expressed it, later on."

The Panama Hat.

A popular comedian at a Lamb's club gambol in New York told a panama hat story.

"A young clerk out my way," he said, "gave his girl a present of a panama last year. Then the day before the Fourth he got a couple of complimentaries for a picnic, clambake and corn roast down the river, and he wired the girl:

"Meet me at pier 13 tomorrow morning at 7. Picnic. Bring panama."
"The next morning as he stood on pier 13 dreaming dreams of love, imagining a long, sweet day of billing and cooing, he saw his girl advancing with her father and mother. He was terribly annoyed, and on the boat, as soon as he could get her alone, he bissed:

"What did you want to bring the old folks for?"
"Why, Will, you told me to," she said, and she showed him the telegram, which the operator had made to read:
"Bring pa and ma."

Whistler Before Whistler.
Mortimer Menpes told the following story of Whistler, who was to deliver an address one day to the Society of British Artists: "The master at length entered, faultlessly dressed, walking with a swinging, jaunty step, evidently quite delighted with himself and the world in general. He passed down the gallery, ignoring the assembled members, and walked up to his own picture. And there he stayed for quite fifteen minutes, regarding it with a satisfied expression, stepping now backward, now forward, canting his head and dusting the surface of the glass with a silk pocket handkerchief.
We watched him open mouthed. Suddenly he turned round, beamed upon us and uttered but two words—
"Bravo, Jimmy!"—then took my arm and hurried me out of the gallery, talking volubly the while."

The Wheel Track to Eternity.
Time is the most important thing in human life—for what is joy after its departure?—and the most consolatory—for pain, when time has fled, is no more. Time is the wheel track in which we roll on towards eternity, which conducts us to the incomprehensible. There is a perfecting power connected with its progress, and this operates upon us the more beneficially when we duly estimate it, listen to its voice, and do not waste it,
but regard it as the highest infinitesimal good in which all finite things are resolved.—Wilhelm von Humboldt.

Unwanted "Wants."
A great number of our wants are special wants of the imagination; we want them simply because we think that we want them; they give us no enjoyment when we obtain them; the want of them is only known by a disagreeable feeling that we are without them.

An Indication.
"Is Bliggins the superior influence in his own house?" "I'm afraid not.
He's one of those men who understand exactly what their wives are talking about when they describe what other women wear."

Oldest Dwelling.
Archaeologists at a recent conference decided that the oldest dwelling inhabited today is a mansion belonging to Count Matuschke at Winfel-on-the-Rhine, Germany, which was built in 700.

Great Writer Not Fond of Music.
Dr. Johnson was among those who had no high opinion of music. He admitted that "if he had learnt music he should have been afraid he would have done nothing else but play," but explained that "it was a method of employing the mind without the labor of thinking at all and with some applause for a man's self." He also confessed that "he knew a drum from a trumpet and a bagpipe from a guitar which was about the extent of his knowledge of music."

Eternal Feminine.
Lady—Why are you all so worried?
Captain—The fact is, madam, we have broken our rudder. Lady—Is that all.
Well, the rudder is under water and it won't show. Let's go on.—Toledo Blade.

All About the Pig.
A little boy's first composition was about a pig. This is the way he wrote it: "Pigs are very queer animals.
The pig has its uses. Our dog don't like pigs. His name is Nero. Our teacher read a piece one day about a wicked king named Nero. I like good men. My papa is an awful good man.
Men are very useful. They have a

COUNCIL TO HOLD CALLED MEETING

A special meeting of the borough council has been called for tonight to consider matters which it is desired to have off the list before the regular meeting. There is a possibility that an ordinance prepared by the Macbeth-Evans company for certain rights on Eighth street may come up.

IF YOU HAVE ECZEMA OR ANY SKIN OR SCALP TROUBLE
HERE IS GOOD NEWS.

You have probably tried one or more remedies with small success. This costs money and it is uncertain. We want you to try ZEMO, the clean liquid remedy but we do not want you to pay for it unless you are satisfied with results. We have so much faith in Zemo that we want you to try it by sending to the E. W. Rose Medicine Co., 3032 Olive St., St. Louis Mo., 10 cents in stamps to pay postage for a generous sample of ZEMO and ZEMO (antiseptic) SOAP and our 32 page booklet on skin diseases OR get a bottle today at Piper Bros., Drug Store and if you are not pleased with results they will refund your money.

ZEMO is a clean scientific preparation that washes away and destroys the germ life and the poisons that cause the trouble. Stops the itching at once and results can be seen after one application. Zemo absolutely cures eczema in all its forms as well as shingles, rashes, acne, tetter, barbers itch, prickly heat etc., on infants the same as on grown persons.

Indorped and sold by druggists everywhere and in Charleroi by Piper Brothers Drug Store.

The Weaker Sex.
The young woman had spent a busy day.

She had browbeaten fourteen sales people, bullied a floorwalker, argued victoriously with a milliner, laid down the law to a modiste, nipped in the bud a taxi chauffeur's attempt to overcharge her, made a street car conductor stop the car in the middle of a block for her, discharged her maid and engaged another and otherwise refused to allow herself to be imposed upon.

Yet she did not smile that evening when a young man begged: "Let me be your protector through life!"—Life.

New Angle on Help.
"Why did you inquire so particularly into the wardrobe of that girl you just hired?" asked one of two women who were leaving an employment agency.

"To find out how carefully she will guard against burglars," said the other. "My experience has been that a girl who has nice things of her own will lock up more securely at night and keep a sharper eye out for sneak thieves in the daytime than one who has nothing of value to lose."—New York Press.

She Was Right.
"How effusively sweet that Mrs. Bloudey is to you, Jonesey," said Withereil. "What's up? Any tender little romance there?"

"No, indeed. Why that woman hates me," said Jonesey.

"She doesn't show it," said Withereil. "No, but she knows that I know how old she is. We were both born on the same day," said Jonesey, "and she's afraid I'll tell somebody."—Harper's Weekly.

The First Lighthouse.
The first lighthouse was erected at Pharos, near Alexandria, in Egypt. It was finished in 283 B. C. Its height was 350 feet, and the light, which was kept burning on top at night, was visible forty-one miles away. This tower existed for some 1,600 years, when it was destroyed by an earthquake.

The Idea.
"Can a married man acquire happiness?"
"Sure! You don't think that bachelors are the only ones that die, do you?"—Toledo Blade.

Generally.
"Pa," said Freddy, "what is a social scale?"
"Generally speaking," replied pa, "it's a place where they weigh money."

There is an oblique way of reproof which takes off from the sharpness of it.—Steele

Why She Chose the Gown.
A woman in Cherryvale, Kan., was allowed her choice between a new parlor rug and a summer gown. The Journal says that after three sleepless nights she decided on the dress. She argued: "I can darken the parlor and the rug will look all right in subdued light, and besides, hundreds of folks will see the dress who would never see the rug."

Value of a Postal Card.
It is a good plan always to have at hand a half-dozen or so postal cards. Then when you see an advertisement that interests you, drop a line before your interest wanes, or you forget the name and address. The possible advantages to you of acting promptly are boundless.

Eight Day Mistake Sale!

Beginning Saturday of this week and lasting for 8 Days, August 26th to September 5, 1911,--At which time we shall endeavor to rectify every Merchandise Mistake we made the past six months.

If John Wanamaker, Marshall Field and any other big store could possibly find buyers who did not make merchandise mistakes, they would be willing to pay that fellow a princely salary. But everybody knows that person cannot be found. Everybody makes mistakes and so do we. In our zeal to provide liberal assortments for your choosing, we find now at the end of the season that our "Mistakes have been Many". We have bought thousands of dollars worth more merchandise than we need. It's our mistake that we have so much goods, and it will be your mistake if you do not take advantage of this Big Sale.

In addition to these wonderful Bargains we will give S. & H. Green Trading Stamps and it will be your Mistake if you don't ask for them.

ARMS AND LEGS MAIN REQUISITES IN THE LEAGUE

Lima Writer Describes Attenuated Charleroi Players Eccentricities

A Lima newspaper recently contained the following as a sequel to a write-up of a Lima-Piqua ball game. John McIlvaine is a pitcher for the Piqua team. The Lima paper says: "The gentlemen who undertook to throw an occasional ball over the wooden square under the bat were an interesting staff of the genus pitcher. The most eccentric specimen that cavorted on the mound was Mr. McIlvaine of the Piqua club. McIlvaine resembles an assortment of the most extremely attenuated arms and legs possible to conceive, mounted with more or less care on a few spliced sections of gas pipe. His amble to the center of the diamond instantly brought the name of "Slim Jim" of Sunday art fame to the lips of some observant fanatic. Slim Jim McIlvaine was a whole infield by himself. There was little occasion for anything around the bases to scoop grounders. The prime requisite was a slot in which to drop the ball after Slim got it. A red hot batter off a stinging bat might seek to scorch its way past the long limbed hurler, but it was of no use. He would shoot out a section of one of his handles like the beak of a heron darting after a minnow. And the ball was sure gone, for he would have it stopped, his attenuated appendage unwound and landed the sphere in the baseman's glove before a runner was able to run far enough to lose a bit of his breath."
